

CARGO SIGNAL AND WINE

THE PERFECT PAIRING

We offer global control and oversight of the location and condition of the wine and spirits moving through your supply chain. Through active, real-time monitoring using advanced cargo sensors, our team of security and logistics professionals will keep an eye on your shipments and take steps to respond based on your priorities.

Our high-tech, high-touch approach helps our customers develop cost effective solutions targeting supply chain vulnerabilities and enables rapid decision making through in-transit visibility to avoid delay and loss. We empower our customers to turn information into insight and discover new value in their supply chains through the Internet of Things.
